On a cold day or when youre hungry for something good to eat but dont want a heavy meal, soups and chowders fill the bill. For me, soups, chowders and gumbo are comfort food. Theyre easy to prepare in a crockpot and keep warm all day long. You can prepare them the night before you plan to serve them, and cook on WARM all night, or you can prepare them in a crockpot and eat them for lunch and/or dinner. One of my favorite recipes is Crockpot Vegetable Soup. I really enjoy eating vegetables, and there are a variety of meats you can use with this soup. Because Im an outdoorsman, I always look forward to lunch and dinner, after spending a day on the water or out in the woods. That crockpot vegetable soup warms the body and soothes the soul. Potato Soup also is another one of my favorites, especially when the weather is really cold. If you want a little spice in your soup, Italian Sausage and Tortellini Soup is one youll really enjoy. I love Cajun spices, and I love to cook in hunting camps. When Im on a small-game hunt, Cajun Rabbit Stew Gumbo is always a camp favorite. When I go to the Gulf Coast, Ill enjoy the taste of seafood. Quick Cream of Shrimp Soup or Corn Crab Bisque satisfy my seafood craving and please all the guests for whom we prepare them. If youre looking for a comfort food, soups and chowders are hard to beat. These are some of our favorite recipes, and we hope theyll be your new favorites too.
