

Survival: Journeys

I do not consider myself to be a survivalist nut, but after coming into a fairly large sum of money, I made a hobby of creating a self-sufficient, off-the-grid survival compound. In the end, I had a safe retreat, which I called the Farm, in which to weather almost any type of disaster. Only it was 2,000 miles away when the much feared disaster struck. Join me as I fight my way through hordes of undead toward the Farm, meeting both allies and foes along the way. All the adventures and battles were for one reason: to have a chance, a chance at survival.
