No one ever thought that the Youth Scouts of America could be used for such sinister purposes until now. At nearly eighty million strong and with a madman at the helm, the leading youth organization has been a literal ticking time bomb for over a decade, with its members brainwashed and drugged with enhanced psychotropic compounds. Triggered by a single line of spoken word broadcast over the airwaves, the killing spree has finally begun. This is the latest serial novel from JJ Holden, author of Dark New World.
